DYING OF PELLAGRA

Warrenton Doctors, Who Treated Aged Farmer's Wife and Removed Her to Georgetown Hospital, Join Washington Physicians in Public Statement Regarding Case.

Diagnosed yesterday afternoon as pellagra in an advance stage, with the Mrs. Sallle Graham, fifty-five years old, was taken to the hospital last Friday from Warrenton, Va.

"Insanity is one of the symptoms of pellagra," said one of the physicians last night. "This woman showed other symptoms, and there was little doubt as to the nature of the ailment from the start, but pellagra is such a rare disease in this country that she could not be treated for it when it is possible she had some other

Consultation Is Called.

The Virginia physicians who treated Mrs. Graham at her home and hurried her to the Georgetown University Hospital were called to Washington for a consultation. It was held yesterday afternoon, when an official diagnosis was made noon, when an official diagnosis was made and the results announced.

"Mrs. Graham had pellagra in an advanced stage," said one of the physicians last night. "There is little hope that she will recover."

Other Case Improving.

The pellagra case of Gertrude Munson, the Swedish girl who was a follower of the negro "Jonah," and has been at the hospital for many weeks, is improving, but there is not every hope that she will survive.

Mrs. Graham is the wife of a well-known farmer of Warrenton, and had been ill for several weeks, it is said.

1402 H at. nvz. DOG MUZZLES NOW COST MORE MONEY

HEISKELT & MoLERAN.

Story of Dr. Woodward's Tag Briefly Told.

Not long ago the District Commissioners issued an order that all dogs in the District should be muzzled. Then it was announced that the dog owners must purchase muzzles which had the approval of the authorities or the dogs would be impounded. Before this order was passed a certain style of 1,379: dog muzzle could be bought for 50 cents. Now the same muzzle costs 75 cents. The increased price is explained by
